

Teaching Evaluations

TILSA ORÉ MÓNAGO

Stony Brook University

tilsa.oremonago@stonybrook.edu

1. Summary of teaching evaluations

Below Table 1 present information of a sample of the evaluations at quantitative level I received.

Table 1

| Course Name | Number of Students | Response rate | Mean overall grade (out of 5) | Teaching effectiveness | Grading Matched Syllabus |
|---------------------------|--------------------|---------------|-------------------------------|------------------------|--------------------------|
| Instructor | | | | | |
| ECO108 FA2014 | 67 | 44.8% | 4.3 | 80% | 87% |
| ECO108 FA2017 | 70 | 44.3% | 4.0 | 74% | 100% |
| ECO108 [online] SU2016 | 71 | 33.8% | 4.7 | 92% | 92% |
| ECO108 [online] SU2017 | 93 | 28.0% | 4.3 | 77% | 92% |
| ECO355 [online] WI2017 | 43 | 16.3% | 4.0 | 57% | 100% |
| ECO389 SU2014 | 21 | 28.6% | 5.0 | 100% | 100% |
| Teaching Assistant | | | | | |
| ECO303 FA2013 | 68 | 26.5% | 4.7 | 89% | 77% |
| ECO303 SP2014 | 68 | 29.4% | 4.3 | 65% | 80% |
| ECO305 SP2015 | 69 | 53.6% | 4.6 | 93% | 92% |

I can provide the full package of evaluations (which contain detailed information) upon request.

2. Quotes from students' comments

- "I valued the class time because I felt that's where I learned the most. The articles provided great knowledge of what was going on in other countries and industries."
- "Given the nature of this country's political climate, I found the information was particularly valuable. I have a deeper understanding when I consume various forms of media and can parse information much better. I also believe that looking at the world through an economist's lens gives me a perspective that sets me apart from others."
- "Overall professor Monago was a great instructor for this class, she thought from student's perspective and wanted us to learn all the best; she was always patient to answer all of our questions. I like her personality, positive, kind and generous; so please keep that attitude, you are doing great things for our educations."
- "Professor was extremely passionate about the material and truly cared about her students. She was extremely available for extra help outside of class, very responsive to emails, and gave a substantial amount of extra credit at the end of the semester. She went out of her way to help students and made time to make sure they understood the concepts. She did her best to give everyone the richest course in economics and walk away with as much knowledge as possible.”

- “I found this to be an excellent course. The professor was extremely helpful, kind, and knowledgeable. She always was very helpful and knowledgeable whenever questions were asked in email or on the discussion forums. I found her lecture slides very helpful, and I thought the articles that we had to read were very enlightening. The discussion forums were an excellent aspect of the course since they helped guide us with what we need to know and offered a lot of teacher-student interaction. The textbook readings were very informative, as well. I found all the tests, quizzes, and reading quizzes also very fair. The professor was also very helpful in making sure we understood everything about the course and keeping us up to date about all the assignments and when they were due. I remember one time I didn't to the quiz yet and it was getting close to the due date and she even emailed me to remind me. Very kind professor who clearly cares about the students.”
- “I found the reading quizzes and the discussion forum the most valuable. The reading quizzes gave real world context to what we were learning. The discussion forum clarified a lot of topics for me and was the questions on the discussion forum made me feel more engaged in this course, despite it being online.”
- “Although it was online, I felt as though it was in person with how much information and help the professor gave us. The assignments weren't all the same, and kept me intrigued.”
- “The outside reading assignments were my favorite part of the class assignments. They really helped tie the bigger on a level that I could understand why economics is so important and how it affects everything based on how we decide to make choices”
- “The homework quizzes made the learning process more comfortable and challenging. The slides were good too. Response to email questions were quick. The article readings made the class more interesting.”
- “The material learned in this course applied to current day living. My professor was very knowledgeable of the subject matter. I enjoyed my professor's enthusiasm in talking about course material. She used personal examples and personal experience to help get points across. The presentations demonstrated positively impacted on my understanding of material. The course enables you to understand important Economic policies and concepts.”